Establishment & Job Classes

The Employer is engaged in contract services at various health care, administrative offices, and industrial facilities in Ontario. The nature of the Employer's business is bidding to provide services to these facilities. The collective agreement between the parties reflects the business volumes, geographic location and specific services contracted with their customers. The bargaining unit jobs of the Employer are primarily female job classes. These female job classes in most cases would not have a male job class to compare on a job-to-job basis or proportional value methods of evaluation for the purpose of Pay Equity. The Employer has insufficient male jobs.

Gender Neutral Job Comparison

The Employer agrees to compensate employees performing similar jobs the same without regard to gender.

The Employer and Union agree not to discriminate against any employee based on gender.

In the event sufficient male jobs are created, the Employer agrees that such job classes would be compensated based on the value of the job and not gender.

In the event any female employee objects to the value assigned to their job class the Employer agrees to investigate the complaint and meet with the Union.

The Four Factors of skill, effect, responsibility and working conditions shall be applied to evaluate jobs in accordance with the principals of Pay Equity Act of Ontario.

Job Information & Evaluation System

The Union agrees to provide to the Employer the job evaluation tool “The Neutralizer” to measure the female job classes and male job classes covered under the collective agreement for the location.

This Pay Equity agreement represents the final and complete understanding between the parties. Any dispute or interpretations may be referred to the Pay Equity Commission of Ontario and is subject to the terms of the collective agreement.

Pay Equity Adjustments

The parties have no Pay Equity inequities at this time. The Employer agrees to make any adjustments if any, part of the regular hourly rate.

Maintenance

The parties agree to review pay equity as required by law during future renewals of the collective agreement. The parties further agree that future pay increases will incorporate any required pay equity adjustments.

RE: Conversion of Hours worked to Months of Service

The Parties agree that the current Employees of the Company as of date of ratification will have their total hours of work converted into months of service for all purposes in the Collective Agreement.

Previously 1300 hours equalled 1 year of employment. To convert to months of service, 1300 will be divided by 12 months equalling 108.3. Therefore 108.3 hours is equal to 1 month of service.

The formula to convert hours to months of service will be as follows: total accumulated hours as of date of ratification divided by 108.3. (ex. 2000 hours divide by 108.3 equals 18.4 months of service.)

Attached to this letter are the calculations broken down by each Employee based on their Employee Number. Employees will then be placed on the new wage grid accordingly. Future increases will be processed annually on September 25, 2012 and 2013.
